

Saturday, October 25

10:00 – 11:00

OPENING SALON

SALON C - WRITE OR WRONG: THE UNRELIABLE NARRATOR DEFINES VIRTUE

One person's morality is another person's evil. How do we know our principles are virtuous? And how can we be so sure that people who seem evil are that different from us?

Authors Andre Dubus III, Diana Spechler, Susanne Pari

11:15 – 12:15

SALON A - MANAGING YOUR MOTHER: OR IS SHE MANAGING YOU?

Characters who are burdened by the choices their mothers have made.

Authors Margaret Cezair-Thompson, Julie Klam, Christina Meldrum, Maud Carol Markson

SALON B - HISTORICAL FRICTION: CHARACTERS IN CONFLICT

How does historical fiction help us understand what is happening in our world today?

Authors Maggie Anton, C.W. Gortner, Jeanne Kalogridis, Gail Tsukiyama, Julie Robinson

SALON C – COME TOGETHER: SELF-DISCOVERY THROUGH FRIENDSHIP

Friendships that profoundly and immeasurably alter us and our lives.

1:10 – 1:30

BRIAN COPELAND PERFORMANCE

The award-winning author of NOT A GENUINE BLACK MAN: MY LIFE AS AN OUTSIDER gives us a taste of his one man show of the same name, the longest running solo show in San Francisco history.

1:45 – 2:45

SALON A – SECRETS OF THE SUBURBS: THIS IS NOT THE LIFE I ORDERED

Trees, birds, flowers, grass—Ah! The perfect place to raise a family! Uh...not so fast.

Authors Janelle Brown, Brian Copeland, Marisa de los Santos, Susan Ito

SALON B – FOODIES: WRITERS EAT, EATERS WRITE

Mouth-watering fiction. How do these writers use food as a metaphor for other issues?

Authors Erica Bauermeister, Nicole Mones, Bích Minh Nguyen, Jason Headley

SALON C – WHICH WITCH IS WHICH: COVENS AND OTHER CLIQUES

What are the lessons we can learn from our historically malevolent attitude toward witchcraft? Can this attitude of fear, ignorance, and a thirst for control be found in our societies today?

Authors Brunonia Barry, Kathleen Kent, Erika Mailman, Kemble Scott

3:00 – 4:00

SALON A – GET SHORTY: THE POWER AND PLEASURE OF SHORT PROSE

Who says short prose is not for book groups? A single story or a single essay can launch a thousand thoughts and discussions.

Authors Catherine Brady, James D. Houston, Victoria Zackheim, Audrey Ferber

SALON B – MAKING A DIFFERENCE: ANY WAY YOU CAN

These authors take philanthropy and innovation to new levels—intellectually and sociologically. And they do it in a way that all readers can enjoy and understand.

Authors Susan Freinkel, Paola Gianturco, Moira Gunn, Masha Hamilton, Cynthia Lee Katona

SALON C – NOW THAT YOU’RE GONE: GRIEF SEEKS SOLACE

How are we touched by the death of a loved one? What does grief do to us? How can literature help us?

Authors Julia Glass, Ann Packer, Irvin Yalom, Lauren John

(Author Signings for Afternoon Literary Salons from 4P – 5:30P in Marketplace)

1:45 – 2:45

SALON A – THIS AMERICAN LIFE (AND DEATH): HOW WE HAVE LIVED

America and Americans are ever-changing. But how can we know where we're going if we don't know where we've been?

Authors Herbert Gold, Mildred Armstrong Kalish, Marilyn Yalom, Lauren Jobn

SALON B – MAKIN' WHOOPIE: LET US COUNT THE WAYS

Sex, of course. On various planes.

Authors Karen Abbott, Douglas Abrams, Melanie Abrams, Mary Roach, Ellen Sussman

SALON C – WHERE THERE'S A WILL...SHAKESPEARE IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Shakespeare still influences writers and readers, even as he becomes more challenging to understand. No worries. Learn about King Lear by comparing him to Robert Mondavi. Find out about the Bard's extravagantly-plotted murders through the deeds of a modern killer, and search for a 400-year-old lost manuscript.

Authors Jennifer Lee Carrell, Reed Martin, Austin Tichenor, Julia Flynn Siler, Kirsten Brandt

3:00 – 4:00

SALON A – ALL ABROAD!: LIVING AND WRITING ELSEWHERE

Instead of coming to America, these authors left America, taking the pioneering spirit with them. They came back with stories to delight, entertain, and enlighten us.

Authors Zoe Ferraris, Jana McBurney-Lin, John Nathan, David Corbett

SALON B – WOMAN, BE WISE: STRONG WRITING, STRONG WOMEN

How strong are our characters compared to ourselves? Do we write what we hope to be or what we really are? And how can strong female characters inspire us to be stronger?

Authors Terry McMillan, Toni Mirosevich, Elizabeth Strout, Kathi Kamen Goldmark
